NO. 196

TO JAIL FOR MAKING BEER

EDWARD MOREHOUSE, NEAR PICKERING PLEADS GUILTY.

JURY AGAIN EXCUSED

Several Cases Set for Trial.—Divorce Is Granted to Mrs. Verna Wilbur.

Edward Morehouse, a farmer living west of Pickering, pleaded guilty in circuit court this morning to the charge of possession of "still beer" intoxicating liquor, was fined $200 and received a jail sentence of three months.

His place was raided by county officers nearly a year ago. They found the boiler and coil of a still underneath a brush pile and a half barrel of fermented corn mash in an upstairs room of the farm house.

Mrs. Verna Wilbur of Maryville was awarded a divorce from Raymond Wilbur on ground of indignities.

The petit jury, called for 9 o'clock this morning, again was excused until tomorrow morning, because of a mix-up on dates for trial of the suit of Edith Warren against S. J. Warren, for maintenance of children. The trial of Elvin Nelson, charged with burglary and larceny, on a charge of venue from Gentry county, was set for the fourth Tuesday of court, January 31.

Injunction Hearing Jan. 24.

The hearing of the injunction of Beulah M. Henderson against Edward Busby was set for January 21. Other proceedings of the court:

Lewis E. Miller and Effie Ferec, administrators, vs. the Northwestern Bank of Burlington Junction, judgment of $60 as common claim set aside.

William W. Linebaugh vs. Nellie Linebaugh et al., partition, decree for partition by sale of land.

Herman Rope vs. Homer Hixson, note, judgment for plaintiff for $139.37 at 8 per cent interest, $13.93 attorney fees and $21.18 costs.

Members of Bar to Rock Port Funeral

George Robb Ellison of Jefferson City, supreme court, commissioner, arrived today at noon to join other members of the Nodaway County bar who went to Rock Port to attend the funeral services of John C. Hunt, well known attorney of Northwest Missouri held at the Methodist Church in Rock Port this afternoon.

Among other members of the bar attending the services were Judge John M. Dawson, Judge W. C. Ellison, Senator M. E. Ford, W. A. Blagg, Phares O. Sigler, Ellis G. Cook, L. C. Cook, Lowell Livengood, Fred Kurtz, Jr., W. G. Sawyers, Virgil Rathbun, Arthur Brewer, court reporter, and Amos Sprecher.

Milton Dunn, Editor, Dies; Was Born Here

Funeral to Be Held Tomorrow for News Executive of Chicago Herald-Examiner.

Milton L. Dunn, telegraph editor of the Chicago Herald-Examiner, died yesterday at Chicago, of pneumonia, according to word received here by his aunt, Mrs. George L. Wilfley, and his uncle, Fred Dunn, of Bolekow.

Mr. Dunn was 41 years old and was born in Maryville. He left here a number of years ago with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Dunn. Both Mr. and Mrs. Dunn are now dead. B. A. Dunn was former editor and publisher of the Maryville Republican here and superintendent of the schools a number of years ago. He also wrote several war stories.

Mr. Dunn is survived by his widow and three children. Two sisters and three brothers also survive. They are: Rolla Dunn, Waukegan, Ill.; Roy Dunn, Lima, O.; Theodore Dunn, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Ethel Dunn, Waukegan, Ill.; Mrs. Dorothy Huffman, Stevens Point, Wis.

Funeral services will be held in Chicago tomorrow.

Methodists Discuss Modernism Tonight

"Can a Methodist Be a Modernist?" is to be the theme of discussion tonight at the prayer meeting at the Methodist Episcopal Church. The Rev. W. S. Woodhull will lead in the discussion. W. L. Lewis will lead the song service.

Dog Tax Due; Owners Liable to Punishment

City Requires Annual Fee of $1.50, and Mayor Issues Another Warning.

Buy your dog license at once! This was the warning of Mayor W. O. Garrett, who said many owners and keepers of dogs in the city had failed to buy 1928 tags.

According to a city ordinance, $1.50 annual yearly license on all dogs over three months old is due January 1. The Mayor said that failure to procure a license or to keep dogs tied up securely at night is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $1 to $50.

EXCHANGE TO HOLD MEETING

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED AND REPORTS GIVEN.

AT 1 P. M. SATURDAY

Shipping Association Also to Choose Directors.—$113,065 Shipments in 1927.

Officers and directors of the Maryville Farmers Exchange will be elected Saturday at the courthouse at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Exchange. The meeting will start at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Also, members will be elected to the board of the Maryville Shipping Association. The reports of the treasurer of the Exchange, John Deardorff, and of Ernest C. Moore, manager of the Shipping Association, will be heard.

During 1927 the Maryville Shipping Association shipped out a total of sixty-nine cars of livestock from the Maryville shipping yards, which sold for a total of $113,065.86, according to Mr. Moore.

Most of these shipments were hogs, the manager said. He also said that the Farmers Union Commission Company will pay to the patrons 50 per cent of the commissions made by the commission company on sales of livestock. Mr. Moore explained that should the Farmers Union make a charge of $15 commission for selling a load of hogs, $7.50 will be rebated to the owners of the hogs.

The Maryville Shipping association at a recent meeting agreed to discontinue the one-fourth of 1 per cent charge for insurance reserve because there is sufficient money to take care of any losses for one year. The only charge will be 5 cents per 100 pounds and that includes insurance and all.

Present members of the Shipping Board are Jake Chestnut, John Dowden, Charles Garrett, Alfred Jones, and Emmett Scott.

The present officers and members of the directors of the Farmers Exchange are: Charles Wells, president; Dave Neidel; L. E. Rogers, John Deardorff, secretary-treasurer; A. B. Dowden, vice-president; Joe Wilmes, and Roy Lippman.

The financial report of the Exchange will be from March 24, 1927, to January 1, 1928, as an audit was made of the books up to March 24, last year.

Summer Log Rolling at Barnard August 2

The annual summer log-rolling of the Northwest Missouri Log-Rolling Association of America will be held at Barnard on August 2, it was decided at a meeting held last night in St. Joseph. The speaker on that day will be John E. Swanger, superintendent of the Modern Woodmen sanitarium at Woodmen, Colo.

The association held its meeting last year at Barnard during the Barnard picnic.

Mrs. Mattie Masters' Home Badly Damaged

Fire Destroys Roof of House at 722 South Fillmore Yesterday Afternoon.

Fire believed to have started from a defective flue damaged the upstairs and destroyed the roof of the home of Mrs. Mattie Masters, 722 South Fillmore street, yesterday afternoon. The loss was estimated at $500.

The fire department was able to extinguish the fire, which had gained headway, by chemicals.

Here From Quincy. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bohon of Quincy, Ill., are in Maryville visiting Mrs. Bohon's sister, Mrs. M. L. Butler and Mr. Butler. The visitors arrived Monday and will be here indefinitely.

TO ASK NEW GAME REFUGE

PETITIONS TO BE CIRCULATED IN MYRTLE TREE DISTRICT.

NEARLY A CERTAINTY

Property Owners of Tract Northeast of Maryville Appear Favorable Toward Preserve.

An application to the state fish and game department will be circulated tomorrow in the Myrtle Tree district for the purpose of obtaining signatures petitioning for a game refuge in that district.

The move to get a game refuge in this territory follows the meeting held last night at the courthouse at which several property owners and Maryville sportsmen conferred with H. L. Piper, fish and game field man, who is here for the purpose of locating a game preserve.

The Dowdens, Jess, Albert, Forrest and John E., who own considerable property in the Myrtle Tree district, were represented at the meeting and are enthusiastic over procuring a game refuge for that section of the country.

Indications today were that the property owners in Myrtle Tree neighborhood are favorable toward the signing leases with the game department, granting the right of stocking this territory for the propagation of small game.

Today Mr. Piper was awaiting the arrival from Jefferson City of the applications which is to be circulated tomorrow. Following the signing of the application, the game department will send a man here to make blue prints of the tract and then the matter will be closed by obtaining the leases. The game department desires however, to get the attitude of the property owners in the proposed refuge before going ahead with an further steps in the procurement of the game refuge.

The tract of land under consideration now in Myrtle Tree district, contains about five sections. It starts at the Bridge over the 102 River, runs east for two miles, north for two and a half miles, and then west two miles and south to the place of beginning. It is situated between the 102 River and the Moxingo Valley creek, is heavily wooded and is considered a better place for a game refuge than the proposed tract southeast of Maryville which has been abandoned.

The nearest point of the tract is five miles northeast of Maryville.

ROUND TABLE TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Dean and Mrs. Walter Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin Guests February 21.

Celebrating the first anniversary of the organization, the members of the Maryville Round Table will entertain their wives with a dinner at the Country Club the night of February 21, when Dean and Mrs. Walter Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin of the School of Journalism, University of Missouri, will be the guests of honor.

Dr. Williams has been dean of the School of Journalism since it was founded at the University and has guided it until now it is the largest and most widely known school of journalism in the world. Mrs. Williams, who formerly was Miss Sara Lockwood, is an assistant instructor in the school.

The Dean has for many years been honored by being elected president of the World Press Congress and his influence in journalism has been felt throughout the United States.

Mr. Martin, who at one time was city editor of the Kansas City Times, has been connected with the School of Journalism for many years as professor of journalism and ranks next to Dean Williams in the school.

The three are expected to be speakers on the program during the evening of the Round Table dinner, according to J. F. Hull, dictator of the club. The Round Table is an organization of Maryville business men who meet at luncheon once a week.

Dwight Brown Files for State Secretary

Jefferson City, Mo., Jan. 18.—Dwight H. Brown, Poplar bluff publisher and State Senator, today filed for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State. He is the second Democrat to file, the other being James H. O'Brien of St. Louis.

Bedford Team Wins Debate From M. H. S.

Decision Unanimous for Iowans Yesterday.—To Debate Barnard Friday In State League.

Maryville High School lost its debate yesterday afternoon at Bedford to the Bedford high school team by a unanimous decision of the judges. This debate has no connection with the district or state league series.

Buster King and Ford Bradley were the Maryville debaters, upholding the affirmative side of the question of creating a federal department of education with a secretary in the President's cabinet.

Geraldine Roberts and William Richardson were the Iowa team presenting the negative argument.

The judges were James Lucas, district attorney; the Reverend Mr. Cooley, First Christian Church; and Miss Moody, head of public speaking, all of Bedford.

The next debate for Maryville high school will be held Friday at Barnard in the fourth and last debate in the first round of the state league series.

CAULFIELD TO BE CANDIDATE

ST. LOUIS REPUBLICANS BEHIND HIM FOR GOVERNOR.

THE RACE STILL OPEN

Several Leaders Refuse to Attend Meeting, and Kansas City Likewise Holds Off.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 18.—Republicans of St. Louis today anticipated early announcement of the candidacy of Henry S. Caulfield, former member of Congress, for the Republican nomination for governor, following action of a group of Republicans here in recommending his candidacy to Republicans of the state.

Endorsement of Caulfield came last night from an unofficial meeting called by Oliver Remmers, chairman of the St. Louis Republican city committee, after three other potential or actual candidates had requested their names be submitted to the conference.

The endorsing resolution, drawn up by Cleveland A. Newton, former member of Congress, was voted upon favorably by twenty-eight of thirty-nine members of the city committee of fifty-six who were present and read in part:

"With no desire to reflect upon the ability or character of any Republican who may entertain ambitions to fill that high office, we have come to the conclusion that Henry S. Caulfield will make the strongest candidate and that he is equipped by training and experience to make the best governor."

Newton to Take Stump.

After the conference, Newton indicated he would take the stump for Caulfield, while Caulfield announced he planned to file his candidacy shortly. Newton recently withdrew his name from consideration for the post.

Candidates who declined to permit use of their names by the conference here were Dr. James Stewart, state health commissioner, and William R. Schneider, member of the legislature, both from St. Louis. Former Attorney General Jesse W. Barrett, already mentioned as a possible Republican candidate, likewise repudiated the St. Louis conference.

As the conference was limited to St. Louis candidates, the names of Lieutenant Governor Phil A. Bennett of Springfield and probate judge, Sam D. Hogdon, St. Louis county, were not considered.

Shortly before the conference opened, Dr. Stewart issued a statement repudiating the meeting, and asserting:

"The primary race for governor should be left free and open to all those desiring to enter."

Kansas City Holds Off.

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 18.—Party leaders of Kansas City today announced they will do some investigating before giving their support to Judge Henry S. Caulfield of St. Louis, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor.

A statement issued today by Robert H. Tschudy, chairman of the Republican county committee, said, "Kansas City may develop a candidate of her own."

Leave Hospital.

Mrs. W. B. Owen and son, W. B. Jr., left the St. Francis hospital yesterday afternoon and are at their home on Walnut street.

NICARAGUAN QUESTION UP

RAISED AT SESSION OF PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE.

COOLIDGE RETURNING

Speeds Toward Washington From Havana Visit, Where Twenty-One Republics Have Sent Delegates.

Aboard President Coolidge's Special Train En Route to Washington, Jan. 18.—The "Friendship Special" speeded northward out of the semi-tropical warmth of southern and central Florida today, carrying President Coolidge back to the Nation's capital.

President Coolidge spent an hour touring Jacksonville during an arranged stop of one hour this morning. He was shown various historical spots as the guest of the mayor and returned to his special train at 10 a. m., to resume the journey home.

Mr. Coolidge showed clearly he had his "land legs" back again and the slight seasickness of yesterday had completely disappeared at breakfast time.

Raise Nicaraguan Question.

Havana, Jan. 18.—Where statesmen had agreed tacitly to ignore it, the Cuban public brought into the open today the Nicaraguan question from the background of the Pan-American conference.

As a prelude to the first plenary session, flags of the twenty-one participating nations were hoisted ceremoniously above the National Theater, where the conference is meeting.

"A popular demonstration greeted the Nicaraguan flag as it was raised. It was the only one cheered. The Mexican flag received the next most enthusiastic applause, in the form of hand-clapping. The United States and other flags were clapped moderately."

Says U. S. Can Lead Aid.

The plenary session was opened at 10:50 a. m. by Dr. Rafael Martinez Ortiz, Cuban secretary of state.

"Perhaps some nations of the old world may look with doubt upon the gathering," he said. "But American nations do not seek progress for their own exclusive use; they seek it for the world."

"If America sacrificed thousands of her sons in the World War battle fields for the prevalence of justice, she will lend her aid to obtain victory for the same cause on the bloodless fields of ideas and peaceful methods."

"Let us bear in mind that nothing stable can be founded on hate, ambition or rivalry. We are working for the future more than for the present."

Apparently there was veiled reference to the Nicaraguan and similar situations in this declaration by Dr. Sanchez A. de Bustamante, Cuban jurist and judge at the World Court.

"The principles of international law to which our countries must adjust themselves should be treated by the conference in such manner that there can be no mistake in their invocation or application in making the national life of all countries, noble, just, fruitful and sovereign."

Senor de Bustamante's speech was made after his formal election as president of the conference.

21 Nations Represented.

The Caribbean breeze today whipped banners of twenty-one American republics, raised ceremonially on university hills as a symbolic prelude to the opening of the first plenary session of the sixth Pan-American conference.

After the tumultuous festivities of President Coolidge's visit, the scene shifted to the University of Havana, where the meeting was called.

Ad Man in Flight

Michigan to Havana

Former Army Aviator and Austin Bement Leave Selfridge Field in Non-Stop Attempt.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Jan. 18.—Lieut. Leonard Flo, former Army aviator, and Austin Bement, Detroit advertising man, hopped off today from Selfridge Field, planning a non-stop flight to Havana, Cuba.

The fliers were in a Stinson-Detroiter monoplane and carried the rubber boat which Edward S. Schlee and William S. Brock carried on their attempted round-the-world flight.

They hoped to complete the 1,359 mile flight in fourteen hours. They left at 11 a. m. Their route was to carry them over Cincinnati, Atlanta, and Key West, Fla.

Sheriff Kills Bandit and Suffers Wound

Dallas County Officer Surprises Bandits in Act of Robbing Store—One Escapes.

Buffalo, Mo., Jan. 18.—Sheriff Harvey Simmons of Dallas county early today shot and killed a fleeing bandit and was himself wounded in the right arm.

Simmons came upon two bandits in the act of robbing a store at 3 o'clock this morning. He pursued the men when they fled in a motor car.

A bullet from the sheriff's gun passed through the heart of the bandit at the wheel, killing him instantly. The car plunged into a ditch and the second robber climbed out and escaped in a field. Poses are on his trail.

MAY ORDER A LATIN PROBE

INVESTIGATION OF NICARAGUAN POLICY FORESEEN.

HEFLIN IS CRITICISED

Southern Senator Gets in Tiff Over Catholic Charge on Forged Mexican "Documents."

Smith Decision Postponed.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Final disposition of the election case of Senator-Elect Frank L. Smith of Illinois was postponed until tomorrow by Senate leaders today, after the Senate had been involved nearly four hours in a religious debate.

Senator Walsh of Montana made the only speech of the day in the Smith case, defending the constitutional right of the Senate to declare Smith's seat vacant because of his large campaign expenditures.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee probably will authorize an investigation of the American Nicaraguan policy at its meeting next Wednesday, chairman Borah said today after the committee had discussed Nicaraguan conditions for two hours in executive session.

Previously the committee had indicated it would await conclusion of the Pan-American conference at Havana before an investigation. Members today expressed belief there was no reason for further delay, inasmuch as President Coolidge is returning tomorrow after opening the conference.

Two resolutions introduced by senators Heflin and Wheeler were discussed. Heflin's directs withdrawal of American Marines from Nicaragua and Wheeler's would authorize investigation of American investments.

Senators Have Tilt.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Senator Heflin of Alabama was criticized severely by Senator Robinson, Democrat, floor leader, and others in the senate today for asserting that Catholics had inspired the forged Mexican "documents" published by Hearst newspapers.

In answer Heflin served notice that he would seek the removal of Robinson from the committee which investigated the documents.

Would Stop Speculation.

Washington, Jan. 18.—A resolution proposing to express the sense of the Senate that the federal reserve board restrict loans by member banks for speculative purposes was introduced in the Senate today by Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin.

LaFollette's resolution if adopted would also ask the board what legislation can be passed by Congress to prevent future use of federal reserve funds for speculative purposes.

Favors U. S. Merchant Marine.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The senate commerce committee went on record today for continued government operation of the American Merchant Marine.

It reported the Jones bill forbidding sale of any government ship to private interests without unanimous consent of the shipping board.

It rejected amendments directing the board to dispose of the ships to private owners.

Fire Damages Hall's Home in Elmo.

A fire, probably starting in the flue, damaged the roof of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bart Hall's in Elmo about 2 o'clock this afternoon. A small hole in the roof was the extent of the damage, it was reported. Mrs. Amanda Carpenter, a neighbor, saw the fire first and gave the call for aid.

HOTELLING GETS LIFE

SLAYER OF DOROTHY SCHNEIDER IS SENTENCED SPEEDILY.

SANITY HEARING LATER

Father of Murdered Girl Attacks Church Deacon at Door of Courtroom.

Flint, Mich., Jan. 18.—Adolph Hotelling, 49-year-old church elder of Owosso, was sentenced to life imprisonment this afternoon for the murder of Dorothy Schneider, 5-year-old kindergarten scholar.

Hotelling was ordered taken to the prison at Marquette, Mich. He was placed in an automobile, heavily guarded by Sheriff Frank A. Green and deputies.

The sentence was imposed by Judge Frank A. Brennan, who presided at the brief trial in circuit court.

Attacked by Father.

The punishment was decreed on Hotelling's plea of guilty.

Leslie Schneider, father of the girl Hotelling admitted kidnapping and killing, attacked the slayer with his bare fists at the door of the courtroom. The two were separated by guards who took Hotelling into a courtroom.

Flint, Mich., Jan. 18.—Elaborate plans were made this afternoon to save Adolph Hotelling, slayer of Dorothy Schneider, from the fury of Flint when he is brought here from Ionia reformatory for trial.

Immediate Trial Ordered.

An immediate, secret trial was decided upon today by the judges of the Genesee circuit bench.

"Lives undoubtedly will be lost if we bring that man back here," Caesar Scavarda, Flint chief of police, protested, but to no avail.

Judge James S. Parker declared that Genesee county was capable of handling its own criminal cases.

Scavarda's fears were based on the mob scene enacted outside the Flint jail Monday night, when it was necessary to call out the militia to disperse rioters.

Michigan does not inflict capital punishment and life imprisonment is the maximum penalty Hotelling can suffer.

Pastor and members of the Church of Christ in Owosso, of which Hotelling was one of the pillars, were stunned by the developments of the last two days but said they would stand by their Elder on the theory that he was insanely irresponsible.

Hotelling Has a Dual Personality

"Arrested Development" Blamed by Court Psychiatrist for Church Elder's Action.

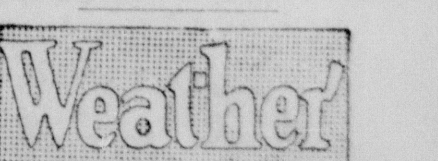

Detroit, Jan. 18.—Adolph Hotelling, 49-year-old carpenter and church elder, who has admitted slaying Dorothy Schneider and attacking two other little girls in the course of the last two years, is a victim of arrested development, according to Dr. Theophile Raphael, court psychiatrist.

"There is nothing cryptic or mysterious about the crime," Dr. Raphael said. "Medical literature is filled with similar cases. The tragedy of it is that such people usually are so admirable in other respects that there is no way of detecting the demon that lurks in the depths."

Dr. Raphael said he was a man of dual personality.

"Hotelling's veneer of righteousness is a familiar part of such crimes," the psychiatrist said. "It was adopted as a defense, both against his own impulses, which he probably feared desperately, and against the suspicion of his fellows. His love for little children could be either another phase of the mask or a definite expression of his abnormal desires."

He added that the degenerate portion of Hotelling's brain probably had been stimulated by reading of the Hickman case in California till he was driven beyond control of himself.

WEDNESDAY BUDGET DAY

Planned Spending--The Secret of Saving

How many people we all know who, though earning enough to keep themselves in comfort, never seem able to make both ends meet. The end of each month finds them just a little short. They must borrow to meet an emergency. They want to save money, and really intend to do so, but the time when it is convenient never comes.

If this is a picture of your own difficulties, it does not follow that you are either extravagant or improvident. The chances are that you are living without any plan or system or arranging your expenditures, and the way out of this very familiar situation is to start a household "Budget." With a budget you can keep track of your income and control expenditures. Certain sums are set down for fixed expenses. Seasonal or unusual expenses that occur three or four times a year can be prorated over each month, so that you can allow for them in advance. Other sums are allotted to recreation, charity and savings. With such a plan, strictly adhered to, you are relieved of the worry of running short, and by controlling the little expenditures that eat up money faster than some larger ones, you actually have more money with which to do things that are worth while.

Says Teaching Not Mere Stepping Stone

Should Be Entered as Life Profession Speaker at College Declares.—Glee Club Excellent.

Walter E. Morrow, chairman of the commerce and economics department of the State Teachers College at Warrensburg, who has been visiting President Uel W. Lamkin of Maryville this week, addressed the student body assembly this morning in an interesting talk on teaching as a profession.

Among other things he stressed the point that this profession should be entered, not as a stepping stone toward other things, but with sincere intent toward making teaching a life work. He also pointed out the requirements of the work if one wishes to follow it earnestly, with a view toward the future.

"One must not only know the subject better than other men know it, but he must be able to teach it. . . . He must be able to teach the devotional side, such as love and truth and charity," Mr. Morrow continued, "if you wish to sell yourself as a professional teacher you must turn yourself around and show yourself from more than one angle."

The assembly was opened by Mr. Lamkin, who made several announcements concerning the art exhibit which is to be on display at the college from Tuesday, January 24 to February 2, the motion picture, "Two Arabian Knights," which will be shown next week at the College auditorium, and the dancing class which will meet this Thursday night under the instruction of Mr. Prinz of St. Joseph. Other announcements were in regard to the coming conference basketball games Friday and Saturday of this week with Warrensburg and at the close of assembly Fred King gave a short pep talk which was "supplemented" by L. M. Eck.

Every one was urged to attend a mass meeting to be held Friday at 3:20.

The program was opened by the Men's Glee Club of the College, which sang the three songs to be sung at the contest in Kansas City Friday night. "Out Where the West Begins," the famous poem by Arthur Chapman, recently set to music by Samuel Gaines, was sung in addition to the three choice songs to be given at the contest. The program given by the glee club today only accentuated the hope and confidence that the Maryville men will win honors at Kansas City Friday night.

Eastern Stars at Guilford Install

Miss Florence Miller, Worthy Matron. —Mrs. Vida Mae Hamlin, Grand Warder, Assists.

The Guilford Chapter No. 479, Order of Eastern Star, held its installation at the Masonic hall there on January 11.

The marshal entered with the flag which she bore to the East, and at the request of the worthy matron, Mrs. Bertha McClanahan, those present gave their oaths of allegiance to the flag.

Mrs. Vida Mae Hamlin, grand warder of Missouri, assisted in the work which was given.

The following officers were installed:

AGAINST RULE BY POLITICS

LAMKIN WOULD LET REGENTS RUN STATE COLLEGES.

SPEAKS AT ST. JOSEPH

Completion of Highway No. 71 Would Help School Here, He Declares.

The need of freeing our state colleges from domination of politics, was the subject of a talk made by Uel W. Lamkin, of Maryville, president of Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, before members of the Co-Operative club at their luncheon yesterday in St. Joseph.

Citing instances of graft and red tape due to political control of money expended on schools in other states, Mr. Lamkin pointed out that all this can be avoided by placing the expenditures of money in the hands of the board of regents and not leaving it to the "powers that be" in Jefferson City.

The speaker said that during the six years he has served as president of the teachers college the board of regents, which is composed of four Republicans and three Democrats, had never been split on a question of political difference.

"Maryville teachers college is the only state institution which is not connected with other parts of Missouri by paved highways, completed or contracted for. There are 500 students at the Warrensburg teachers' college who should be at Maryville," Mr. Lamkin asserted. He urged the completion of hard surface on highway No. 71 as soon as possible.

Following Mr. Lamkin, Bert Voorhees, St. Joseph attorney, explained that the St. Joseph Chamber of Commerce had concentrated on the completion of highway No. 71 for the past three years but that trouble over the routing of the highway had held up work.

Farewell Party.

A surprise "tacky" party was given for Mr. and Mrs. Dori Porter and son, near Orrsburg, last night. It was a farewell affair as the honor guests leave soon to make their home at Springfield soon. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Halley Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Bosch, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bosch and daughter, Marjean, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Burnett Strader, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed B. Mann and son, James Edward, Mr. and Mrs. Vilas Porter, Mrs. Mary Hornbuckle, Miss Letha Lawson and Veris Brown.

Funeral of Mrs. Wade Held This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. O. P. Wade, a resident of Maryville for a number of years, were held at the First Presbyterian church at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The Rev. W. N. Dewar conducted the service, and Rosanna Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held last rites at the church. Burial was in Miriam cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Harry Harrison, Fred Kurtz, R. R. Souers, Charles Wadley, D. E. Hotelkin and Fred Diss. Mrs. C. E. Wells sang "No Night There," and assisted with the Eastern Star service.

Judge and Mrs. Jesse F. Robertson went to Excelsior Springs this morning to spend two weeks.

CORN MAKES $20 AN ACRE

D. O. BELT AVERAGES 65.6 BUSH-ELS ON 55 ACRES.

IS "MASTER FARMER"

Missouri Ruralist Awards Him Title. Wins Over Representative of Ten Other Counties.

D. O. Belt, who lives south of Maryville, has won the title of "Master Farmer" by his achievement of raising 65.6 bushels of corn an acre, which netted him more than $20 an acre on 55 acres. He has been awarded a prize of $50 by the Missouri Ruralist and is at Columbia this week where he, with County Extension Agent J. Ross Fleetwood, attended a dinner to receive the prize and Mr. Fleetwood to receive a loving cup for the assistance he rendered Mr. Belt.

The Ruralist, in co-operation with the extension department of the Missouri College of Agriculture and members of the Better Farmers League, started a contest in this state last spring to foster correct farm practices. The contest plan:

Six divisions were represented, crops, beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine, sheep and poultry. Nominations were made by farm agents and more than 600 Missouri farmers were recommended as eligible. Of these, 400 indicated a willingness to serve. From this group, 53 county representatives were chosen, but two of the 57 counties eligible were not represented in the league work.

Eleven Crops Competitors.

There were eleven county representatives in the crops division, in which Mr. Belt took first; eleven in poultry, nine in sheep, nine in beef cattle, eight in dairy, and seven in swine. Each representative was an outstanding farmer who had proved successful in a chosen field.

Awards were based on 400 points for correct farm practice; 400 for net profit above production cost, investment considered; 200 for story and records. Each county agent was assured an honor award as a souvenir if his county representative won first.

Representatives were required to keep a careful record of costs, including labor and interest on investment and equipment.

Eighty per cent of the county representatives made final reports.

The Ruralist says of Mr. Belt's achievement:

"Mr. Belt, who owns and operates 160 acres of good farm land, entered 55 acres of corn which averaged 65.6 bushels an acre. Investment, $5,500; income, $2,621.50; expense, $1,215.29; cost a bushel, 33 cents; net profit, $1,406.51. The profit was increased through soybeans and sheep in corn. Award, $50 and honor diploma. County agent, J. Ross Fleetwood."

From Years of Effort.

G. W. Sunderwirth, Bates County, operating 160 acres, was second in the crops division. He entered sixty acres of soybeans.

The editorial comment of the Ruralist was:

"Assuredly the man or woman who excels in a specialized line of agricultural activity is entitled to be called a Master Farmer. A study of the records made by the six men who won this honor in our Better Farmers League work last year proves that they are Master Farmers indeed. Consider what was done by Mr. Belt of Nodaway county. On 55 acres Belt produced an average yield of more than 65 bushels an acre at a cost of 33 cents a bushel, netting him more than $20 an acre profit. Neighbor Belt did not accomplish this in one year. It is a result of years of intelligent application of the science of agriculture."

Elmo Farm Mineral Co. Triples Sales

The Elmo correspondent of the Democrat-Forum writes that the Bradley Farms Mineral Company there sold three times as much mineral last year as during 1926. The sales for 1927 were $45,958 pounds, an increase of 549,142 pounds over the 1926 sales.

"Success lies not so much in finding a suitable place as in making your self suitable for the place you have found," the correspondent commented.

The Necro company shipped a 44,000 pound car of mineral to Dr. Homer A. Whitney at Belleville, Kan., last week.

Ship Most Hogs by Truck.

A new one-day record in receipts of hogs by truck to the St. Joseph market was established Monday when arrivals amounted to 3,974 head in this division. This was 55 per cent of the total market offerings for the day.

MASTER FARMERS.

(Nodaway County Farm Bulletin). Nodaway County farmers have a right to a considerable pride in the fact that one of their fellows—Denton O. Belt—has been elected a Master Farmer in the contest conducted by the Missouri Ruralist. It is no small honor for any man engaged in the work of farming that he should be chosen to bear the title of Master Farmer—and those who have observed the work of Denton Belt during the last few years know he has fairly earned the distinction that has come to him.

We enthusiastically commend the Master Farmer movement. It is a long step in a right direction, bringing as it does the business of farming a recognition it had failed to be accorded as one of the important branches of national industry and giving something nearly akin to—if not actually bestowing—a professional standing alongside the scientists of the land.

Master Farmers are not self-chosen; the honor seeks the man.

NODAWAY 4TH IN 4-H WORK

COUNTY IS AWARDED $175 BY BANKERS ASSOCIATION.

Nodaway County has been adjudged as the fourth most outstanding county in 4-H club work by the Missouri Bankers Association and was given a $175 prize. The prizes will be divided to pay all or part of the expenses of the leading 4-H club boys and girls from this county who will attend the Junior Farm and Home Week at Columbia.

Fifteen prizes, ranging from $250 to $25 each, have been awarded.

The score of Nodaway County has not been received here, but J. Ross Fleetwood, extension agent, who made the report, thought it would be between 750 and 800 points out of a possible thousand.

Lincoln county easily placed first with a total score of 971.6 out of a possible 1000 points. First prize is $250. St. Charles county placed second and won $225. Lafayette county received the $200 awarded for third place. The others with placings and awards are: Nodaway fourth, $175; Marion fifth, $150; Cass sixth, $125; Cooper seventh, $100; Buchanan eighth, $75; Howell ninth, $50; Howard tenth, $25; Boone eleventh, $25; Jackson twelfth, $25; St. Louis thirteenth, $25; Linn fourteenth, $25; and Pettis, fifteenth, $25.

Twelve more counties, 64 more clubs organized and 700 more club members marked the 1927 enrollments of club members. The past season, 1913 standard 4-H clubs were organized in the state in 99 counties with a membership of 9697. Indications are that keen competition for the county prizes can be expected in 1928 as the 4-H club progress shows vigorous and healthy growth.

WASHES WHILE WIFE ATTENDS TO CHICKENS

Cooperation of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Johnson Farm Is Making Success of Poultry Business.

Unusual co-operation between man and wife on the farm was witnessed by Elmer R. Coats, vocational agriculture instructor at the Maryville High School, when he made a visit recently to the C. N. Johnson farm, about eight miles south of Maryville. He found Mr. Johnson in the basement washing clothes while Mrs. Johnson was caring for the chickens.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson now have 1000 single comb White Leghorn laying hens, of which 700 are mature pullets. There are 125 cockerels. This stock is from the Frank Plum flock at Fairfax.

The chickens are arranged in four different houses. Two are the Missouri type of poultry houses, like the better by the Johnsons because they give added room and take care of moisture.

The chickens live on a ration of 100 pounds of bran; 100 pounds of tannage; 25 pounds of alfalfa meal; 25 pounds of bone meal, and 20 pounds of sour milk.

The feed is given through self-feeders, of which there are eight feet wide and fourteen feet long, on a platform eighteen inches high, thus taking very little space. These feeders were constructed by the vocational agriculture boys of the Maryville high school, without any labor cost to the Johnsons.

They will sell eggs to the Maryville hatchery.

Mr. Coats said he never has seen a healthier flock of chickens, and that every precaution is taken. In the early fall tobacco dust was sprinkled on every chicken to exterminate lice. All houses are cleaned weekly and lime sprinkled in each after cleaning.

"They enjoy poultry work and are making it a paying farm enterprise," Mr. Coats said.

Raymond Rickman Tells How He Made $917 With Dairy Project

How Raymond Rickman, student in the agriculture department of the Maryville high school, made a profit of $917.56 in a dairy project, was revealed in detail today by Elmer Coats, Raymond's instructor.

Amazement had been expressed by a number of persons that a boy could make that much profit during vacation and spare time while attending school. Accordingly Raymond, who is one of the 14-year-old twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rickman, now of Hopkins, was asked to furnish his figures.

Raymond selected dairy production as a six-months project, taking charge of the purebred Guernsey herd, consisting of fourteen cows, belonging to his father. The project was started last April and completed last September and Ray realized a total income of $917.46.

The youth took a real interest in the project. The cows were fed on a balanced ration of corn, linseed oil meal, oats and cotton-seed meal, and the cows were run on pasture.

His expenditures for feed were: April 1, spent $61 for corn, oats, and linseed oil meal; May 1, bought $20.58 worth of corn and linseed oil meal; June 1, bought $21 worth of corn and linseed oil meal; July 1, bought $20.12 worth of corn and linseed oil meal; August 1, bought $20.50 worth of corn, cotton-seed meal. He was charged $122 for pasture, making a total of $265.20 feeding costs.

A total of 435 hours of labor were required, of which Ray worked 155 hours, and others 280 hours. The total labor cost was estimated at $101.

The total interest on the investment was $32.30. Ray had on hand at the opening inventory, $1400. The total cost of production, including the value of the herd, was $1917.50.

Listing his receipts, Ray received $1144.96 for cream and skimmed milk. He had seven calves, each valued at $25, making a total of $175. He won $14 prize money at the Hopkins dairy show.

There was $1575 on the closing inventory, making total assets of $2733.96. Ray received a net profit amounting to $816.46, plus the $101 he paid himself for labor, thus realizing a total income of $917.46.

The following is the record of his cows, with the number of pounds of milk and the average test:

Cow	Milk	Average	Test
Valentine	3372.5	5.94
Edith	3391.5	5.8
Mae	4338	5.3
Dianna	3357.8	5.3
Ruby	3865	6.1
Bess	3656.5	5.5
Star	2719	5.3
Per	3286.5	5.2
Daisy	3225.5	5.1
Queen	2200	5.8

Ellena	2917.5	5.06
Snowflake	1753.5	4.5
Sally	3645	5.4
Myra	(Dry, Sold)

The Rickman boys, Raymond and Leroy, attended the Maryville High School until their parents moved on a farm near Hopkins. They are students there but expect to return to Maryville in their senior year and finish their second year of vocational agriculture.

Raymond was a student of high scholastic standing and made an E (excellent) in his agriculture study.

H. S. STUDENT DOES WELL IN POULTRY WORK

Walter Dow Estimates Value of Eggs From 64 Hens for Six Months at $193—Expenses at $107.71.

One of the interesting projects carried on during the past year in the Vocational Agriculture Department of the Maryville High School is that in which Walter Dow kept records on sixty-four White Leghorn pullets which he cared for at his home in north Maryville. Not only did the flock show a nice profit during the five months of the project, but the accuracy of the records that were kept marks the project a successful one.

The instructor in Vocational Agriculture, E. R. Coats, who supervised the work, has written the following:

"Project work carried on by the Vocational Agriculture students is entirely elective. The boys choose the project that appeals to them and one they expect to profit from. This work is carried on for six months under the supervision of their teacher. The boy is required to keep record of feed, labor, depreciation, interest on investment and to keep a production and sales record. By doing this the boy learns to keep records and will know where his profit or loss occurs.

"Walter Dow carried out his project with sixty-four Single Comb White Leghorns. This project was started in November with mature pullets and ended in April. Walter produced eggs during the winter months and this enabled him to secure a fair price for all eggs sold.

"The ration was as follows: 100 pounds red dog flour, 100 pounds bran and 50 pounds of meat scraps and fed in a self-feeder while yellow corn was used as a scratch feed. The scratch feed was fed at the rate of 15 pounds daily to 100 hens and Walter practiced feeding one-third scratch of morning and balance of scratch in afternoon. Water was placed before the hens in three gallon water fountains.

"Following is the amount of different feeds fed: Corn 2084 pounds, mash 1600 pounds at a total cost of $64.80. 100 pounds of grit was used at a cost of $1.50 thus making a total cost for feed and grit $66.30.

"During November he sold 20.5 dozen at 43 cents a dozen which brought him $8.82; December 38.7 dozen at 40 cents a dozen and 1.5 dozen at 43 cents a dozen, thus making a total of $16.08 for December. January 78.11 dozen at 36.5 cents per dozen total $28.91. During the last three months a total of 344 dozen was sold at 34.75 cents per dozen, making a total of $119.54. Also 58 dozen was used at home during the six months and valued at $19.14 thus making a total of 541.5 dozen produced at a total value of $193.19.

Efficiency factors show that there was a production of 8.4 dozen per hen at a cost of $1.16 per hen. It cost $1.38 to produce one dozen. Receipts per bird amounted to $3.01 and receipts per dozen was $158 with a total profit of $85.48. Total income from project was $193.19, while the total expense including labor, feed, depreciation, interest on investment and marketing was $107.71.

Pruning Aids Apple Profits.

Pruning apple trees will aid the production of better, more valuable fruit, invigorate the remaining branches with an effect to some extent similar to fertilizer, aid the production of annual crops on varieties that tend to bear biennially, and make spraying much easier, according to H. W. Guengerich, assistant county agent for the Missouri College of Agriculture. Fifteen cents per tree will cover the cost and will show profits.

THE STORY THUS FAR

When JEFF HARRISON, gambler, is killed in a poker game in Caldwell, Kan., his 13-year-old son, TONY, is taken to the Bar K ranch in the Indian territory by JOE CRAIG, who appoints himself the boy's guardian.

There Tony is welcomed by TITUS MOORE, owner of the Bar K brand, and his little daughter, RITA. Another who has befriended Tony is GORDON W. LILLIE, who later becomes known as PAWNEE BILL, whom he teaches school at the Indian reservation in Pawnee.

In the months that follow, reports come to the Bar K of the activities of the now notorious Benton gang. TOM BENTON being the murderer of Jeff Harrison. Craig and Tony depart for Pawnee to visit Pawnee Bill.

Rita Moore and her mother depart for Virginia to spend the summer, and Tony, now 15, learns for the first time what it is to miss someone.

Pawnee Bill, in a letter to Tony, describes the show business and a narrow escape of Buffalo Bill's.

CHAPTER XXIII

The riding of wild buffalo was one of the acts featured in Buffalo Bill's wild west show. The beasts, according to Pawnee Bill, were ferocious animals and the show had severe damage suits to pay because of the depredations they committed en route to the grounds from the train and back again.

The top riders with the show had ridden all of the buffalo except one big male, called Monarch because of his size and majestic appearance. Colonel Cody a number of times had suggested to the boys that they rope and ride him.

"But," Pawnee Bill wrote, "they would miss their catch on him or someone would tie onto another buffalo before he was caught, and thus up to the day we played Indianapolis Monarch had not been ridden. About 1 o'clock that afternoon the colonel drove to the grounds with two landaus filled with a party of friends with whom he had had lunch at a club.

"Before the show started he called the men together and said: 'Now, boys, when we get to the buffalo riding act I want you to rope old Monarch and ride him. I've a party of real friends in the audience today, including the governor and the mayor of the city. Let's give them a real wild west show.'"

"The boys tried to argue the matter with him, but he just laughed it off, saying he could ride him himself easily. When the colonel stepped away they all got together and agreed not to ride him. When the act came, Colonel Cody was right there and rode in with us. He hollered to Buck Taylor and Jim Lawson, our two best men, to rope Monarch. Buck caught him a nice throw around the neck. Jim heeled him, and in a few minutes they had him stretched out on the ground ready for the rider to mount.

"No one came forward, so the colonel called to Jim Bullock, who is considered our best steer and buffalo rider, to ride him. But Bullock refused saying he thought he was too dangerous. Colonel Cody then called to one of two of the other boys to ride him. They also refused. Dismounting, he said, 'I've got more nerve than all of you put together.' He walked over and got aboard and hollered to the boys to turn him loose. Monarch bounded to his feet, ran a short distance and then started to buck, and finally threw the colonel high in the air. When he struck the ground he never moved. The buffalo did not turn to attack him, which we all expected him to do, but kept on running.

"I with a number of the boys rushed to Colonel Cody, who was insensible and lay as if dead. We carried him to one of the landaus and he was rushed to the hospital. The following day was our last in Indianapolis. The colonel remained in the hospital two weeks and kept sober until we hit Chicago.

"When he joined us again he was a different looking man. It was the first time since I had joined the show that I had seen him free from liquor. What a difference it made in him and what a handsome man he was! It carried me back again to my first sight of him back in Bloomington. He's about 40 now, but in the very prime of manhood."

There was more in the lengthy letter, including a detailed account of the towns the show had visited, and all of it was highly exciting to Tony Harrison. They had played Boston and New York—or, rather, Coney Island—and at Chicago they had drawn a crowd of 60,000 on their first Sunday, the largest crowd, it was said, that had ever gathered at an exhibition with an admission charge.

The boy was quite determined now that when the time arrived when he should leave the ranch, he would go with Pawnee Bill. That evening Joe Miller rode over from the 101 and the next morning Tony accompanied him when he rode back.

To Joe he confided something of the plans he was making. "Maybe you'd like to go along. I'll see if it can be arranged."

But the serious minded Joe Miller shook his head. He was firmly in the cattle business with his father and brothers. "If ever I go into the show business it will be for myself, Tony. Meanwhile there's too much to do to think about it."

He would be in Caldwell for the fair, though, and to see the race. "Old Titus has picked a tough one to beat. I know that Black Diamond horse; I've seen him run."

"Is he fast?"

"He's everything, and strong as a bull. It's a good thing the race isn't a longer one. I wouldn't say it to Titus Moore, but that stallion would break any horse's heart at a mile or more."

Tony considered this thoughtfully. "What do you think about it?" he asked.

"Oh, I'll have a bet on you. Fancy's got clean blood in her. How old is she?"

"Pretty near six."

"And Black Diamond's a three-year-old. Another thing in his favor. He hasn't run his best race yet."

When Tony returned to the Bar K, two days later, Fancy was being accorded the most extravagant care.

"You'd think," murmured Joe Craig, "she was a crown prince or something. The colonel's sure out to win that race."

Grass had been cut out of her diet; she was eating oats, and a special mixture of the colonel's making. No one rode her; instead she was led back and forth at a mild trot three times a day by Heck Sherman. Her ankles were taped, and a week before the opening of the fair she was taken to Caldwell, Titus Moore driving his buckboard and Tony, sitting in the rear, leading Fancy by the bridle.

In Caldwell, the colonel, refusing to entrust her to a livery stable, had a rough lean-to erected in the rear of Tony Harrison's cabin. There Fancy was quartered, with someone always around to look after her.

Horse racing was to feature every day of the fair, but the meeting between Black Diamond and Fancy was scheduled for the second day. There had been a change in plans; because of the unusual interest that had developed, arrangements had been made for a special match race between the two. Originally they had been entered in the free-for-all.

There was a continual stream of visitors to the cabin. Men stood around and critically inspected the colonel's thoroughbred mare and then walked over to the livery stable where Clyde Jones was keeping Black Diamond. Most of them favored the stallion.

"She's a beauty, but she don't size up with the horse."

And Titus Moore would remark quietly, "I understand it's to be a test of speed, not strength."

All Caldwell appeared to be betting on the race, and in Mag Woods place money passed into the hands of stakeholders at all hours of the day and night. The stallion had been established as a five-to-four favorite.

Clyde Jones called at the cabin the evening before the race. He was a beefy, red-faced man, loud-voiced and swaggering.

"I came," he announced after introducing himself to Titus Moore, "to look at your mare and to see how strong you were willing to back her. Have you seen my horse yet?"

"I have," said the colonel. "He's a beautiful animal; one of the finest I ever looked at."

Jones obviously was pleased at this tribute. "Thank you; you show a real knowledge of horseflesh. There's not a drop of cold blood in that stallion and there's nothing on four legs that can show him a pair of heels."

They had gone back to the lean-to, and Jones stopped talking to take in Fancy's points. Titus Moore was the soul of courtesy; he led the mare out himself and answered cheerfully a hundred questions.

"She's pretty, all right," Jones admitted, pursing his mouth. "What's her breeding?"

The colonel told him.

Jones nodded and proceeded with his inspection. Finally he stepped back, to admit that she compelled his admiration. "What'll you take for her?" he asked, his eyes squinting in approval. "She's not the animal mine is, but I'd like to have her."

The colonel drew himself up stiffly. "She's not for sale, suh. There isn't enough money in Caldwell to buy her."

Joe Craig, standing nearby, grinned and nudged Tony in the ribs.

Jones smiled rather sheepishly. "No offense, no offense. Just my way of telling you how much I like her. Well, Colonel, there can't be a horse race without a little wager. How much shall it be?" He thrust his hand in his pocket and extracted a fat wallet. "Five hundred? A thousand? I'll give you the prevailing odds, of course."

Titus Moore frowned slightly. "I'm

"Whew!" Jones seemed staggered; his beefy face turned a shade redder. "They told me," he said, "you were a betting man, but I didn't think—"

"I never back my judgment half way," the colonel interrupted coolly. "If she's worth risking a dime on, she's worth everything I've got."

Jones regarded him again through squinted eyes. "True enough," he murmured, "true enough. Why not," he suggested craftily, "go all the way?" He paused a moment. "My five thousand against your five, my horse against yours. What do you say?"

And Titus Moore answered him without the flicker of an eyelash. "I accept. If Fancy loses she's yours."

Final Grain Review.
Chicago, Jan. 18.—Reports of heavy southwest movements of new corn sent prices in that grain downward and depressed wheat in sympathy at today's session.
Oats held moderately.
Wheat held within a range of about half cent during the morning and trading was dull. Export demand was dull. Export demand was flat. Liverpool and Buenos Aires were weak.
Corn's temporary strength helped firm wheat prices early but when corn declined the only supporting influence in the wheat pit was removed. Receipts here were 10 cars and cash wheat was unchanged.
Southwest farmers took advantage of early higher prices to market their corn. Receipts totaled 79 cars and cash corn unchanged to half cent lower.
Oats receipts were 37 cars. Cash oats unchanged.
These tendencies held through the final hour and the close showed little change from noon figures. Final prices: Wheat ¼ to 3-8 lower; corn ¼ lower and oats 1-8 to 3-8 off.
Provisions declined slightly higher.

SEVENTH FOR SPOOFHOUNDS

M. H. S. BASKETEERS EASILY DOWN TARKIO, 29-13.

DEFENSE IS FEATURE

Leland Smith, Star Guard, Learning to Shoot Baskets, Too.—Entire Team Shows Improvement.

The Maryville High School Spoofhounds last night defeated Tarkio High School basketballers on the local court, 29 to 13, the seventh consecutive victory for the Maryville preppers in as many starts.

It was a game in which the Spoofhounds dominated from the starting whistle, with Leland Smith coming in under the basket for a field goal in the first minute of play. Coach Wallace Croy must have given Smith a separate court on which to do nothing but practice shooting goals since his last appearance on the local floor, as the tow-haired lad was tied with McMurtry for high-point man until McArthur was substituted for him.

Smith continues to be the main cog in the Spoofhound offense and as one spectator said last night, "he has the shooting privilege."

The Spoofhounds show more improvement, using team work to better advantage in each game. The defensive phase of the game always has been strong this year, and again was indicated by the low score to which Tarkio was held. However, Tarkio got a lot of shots at the basket, especially West rack, a Westboro lad who is going to school at Tarkio. The Maryville guards hurried him on many attempts but his shooting even on open shots was erratic.

Westrack was the best bet on the Tarkio five, even though Coach Justus used nine men before the game ended. McMurtry had an opposing center who was even taller than he, a lad by the name of McMullen, who stands 6 feet 4 inches.

Russell, Maryville forward, played a hard game, getting three field goals, and his long arms often came in handy to knock down a Tarkio pass.

The Spoofhounds seemed to be at fault in not passing to Russell when he was often loose under the Maryville basket or over in a corner unseen by Tarkio guards.

Maryville scored 6 points before Tarkio counted. Westrack, then getting a field goal. The first quarter ended 8 to 2 for the Spoofhounds.

Very little scoring was done in the second period, Maryville making 4 points and Tarkio one.

The third quarter found both teams hitting the basket as Tarkio counted 7 points and Maryville ran the score up to 23. With many fresh substitutes the game waxed fast in the final period but the second string men were inaccurate in their basket shooting. After many attempts, Barrett, one of the tallest men on the Spoofhound squad, got a field goal just before the final whistle.

The box score:

Maryville	fg ft	Tarkio	fg ft
Russell, f	3 9	Westrack, f	3 1

Trotsky on Way to Lonely Banishment

Former Russian Idol Forced to Take Punishment Meted Out by Now Dominant Stalin Group.

Berlin, Jan. 18.—Leon Trotsky, erstwhile co-dictator of the Russian Empire, was on his way today to lonely banishment on the Chinese Frontier of Turkestan, said a Berliner Tageblatt Moscow dispatch.

The Tageblatt's usually well-informed Moscow correspondent declared that Trotsky, shorn of all power, left Monday night to take an obscure governmental post at Vjorny.

His departure meant that the government had been able to force him to take the punishment meted out to him for opposing the now dominant Stalin faction.

Psychopathic Patient Admits Setting Fires

"Obsession" Seized Him, Says John J. Fisher, 29, Arrested in Washington.

Washington, Jan. 18.—John J. Fisher, 29-year-old veteran whose nerves were affected by the war, recalled this afternoon he had started at least four of seven disastrous fires that threatened sections of Washington yesterday and kept 1,000 firemen busy.

Previously, he had confessed to starting only two.

"I can't remember, though," he told Inspector Pratt, chief of detectives. "I only know something should be done to me, or I'll start some more fires just to see the firemen fight the flames."

An "obsession" to start fires seized him, he said, after he watched a fire.

Fisher is a disabled world war veteran drawing compensation. He was a Veterans Bureau patient at Walter Reed army hospital last November, but was marked off the rolls after being absent without leave for several days. He said he was under threatment for chronic sciatic neuritis.

Thomas L. Blanton a Candidate for Senate

Washington, Jan. 18.—Representative Thomas L. Blanton, Democrat, Texas, formally announced today his candidacy for the Senate. He declared that "only in the Senate may plundering be effectively stopped." "All exploiters of public funds and governmental favoritism are not in Republican party alone," he said. "Some operate in all parties and need constant checking."

Refuses to Revoke Osteopathic License.

Kirkville, Mo., Jan. 18.—Believing that he had been a victim of a "frame-up," the state osteopathic board voted not to revoke the license of Dr. A. D. Becker of Jefferson City, convicted of illegal sale of narcotics.

Persons responsible for the frame-up are known to the board, members said. Becker served a nine months sentence following his conviction.

STATE INCOME BLANKS HERE; DUE MARCH 15

May Be Obtained From County Clerk or Assessors.—Federal Man Here Also.

State income tax blanks have been received at the courthouse by Fred Wright, county clerk, and George Meek, Polk township assessor, and will be sent out to the membership assessors for distribution.

The blanks must be returned to the courthouse by March 15.

Blanks also are being mailed out to individuals and corporations by Mr. Meek and some are to be left at the banks in Maryville.

A 1 per cent tax is assessed on 1927 incomes with the following exemptions: $1,000 for single person; $2,000 for head of family; $200 for each child under 18 years old or incapable of self-support.

A Mr. Elder of Kansas City from the office of the collector of internal revenue, was here last week until Friday, assisting persons in making out federal income tax returns.

Drops Insanity Pose, "Fox" to See Alienist

Hickman Willing to Submit to Examination—Preparation for Trial Goes on.

Los Angeles, Jan. 18.—With his trial for the murder of Marion Parker scheduled to begin one week from today, William Edward Hickman has suddenly dropped his "insanity pose" of the last several weeks, according to his jailers.

Heretofore the youth has made every effort to halt the examinations of state alienists and on a number of occasions succeeded. Today, he declared he was willing to meet the state's specialists, Dr. Fred Mickels and Dr. T. J. Orison.

Meanwhile, preparation for the trials was being made in superior judge, Carlos Hardy's courtroom, where workmen were rearranging the room in an effort to take care of the crowds which are expected to attend.

All Maryville Odd Fellows are to meet at the I. O. O. F. Hall here by 7:30 o'clock.

Endurance Fliers Overcome Hazard

Craft Flying Over San Francisco Bay Lightens Gasoline Weight by 24 Hours in Air.

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—With motors throttled to the lowest possible speed, the Spirit of California slowly cruised over the San Francisco Bay region today in an attempt to shatter the world's flight endurance record.

At 8:09:16 a. m. the Fokker monoplane piloted by Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian, and Lieutenant George Pond, U. S. N., had been in the air exactly twenty-four hours.

Shortly before noon the fliers radioed that their plane was functioning perfectly.

The most hazardous part of the flight was over today. Consumption of gasoline during the first day and night aloft lightened the plane so that it was able to attain a safe altitude of 2,000 feet or better.

At the start the ship, with a total weight of nearly 16,000 pounds, was forced to fly at an altitude of barely 200 feet.

Weather conditions have been excellent for the flight thus far and the same conditions are predicted for the next 24 hours.

If Kingsford-Smith and Pond are able to remain in the air until 12:31:47 p. m. tomorrow they will equal the record now held by the German aviators.

The installation of the officers will be held at the meeting next week.

Iowa Students Vote on Athletic Staff

Iowa City, Iowa, Jan. 18.—Students of the University of Iowa were to ballot today to decide whether they favor retaining the present athletic staff of the University.

The members of the staff who will be voted on are Coach Burton A. Ingwersen, Director Paul E. Belling, and Dr. Walter R. Fieseler. The school athletic board recently endorsed the three.

Ingwersen has been under fire for some time because of the poor showing of the Iowa football team in recent years.

Go to Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Phares and Mrs. H. Frank Lawrence left this morning for Kansas City for a two-day stay. Mr. Phares will attend the hardware men's convention in session in Kansas City. They will return late tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. George J. Culer left this morning for Mercedes, Texas, where they will spend the remainder of the winter.

The Mules Are Coming

Here's what happened to them a few years ago on the Maryville court, as taken from the newspaper files:

"Goodbye Mules with your old hee-haws." With a kick weaker than Bevo, the once mighty Mules have slunk back to their Warrensburg stables, humbled and shorn of their power.

"And the wobbly Bearcats, but wobbly no more, are perched on high, thrilled with the newly-found power and are pacing their lair for fresh victims.

"When the smoke of battle had died away, the groans of the defeated Mules whiffed out and the victorious snarls of the Bearcats subsided, it was announced that the final score was 29 to 25 after TWO NERVE-RACKING EXTRA FIVE MINUTE PERIODS."

Will History Repeat?

The Warrensburg Mules are coming here this week flushed with early season conference victories, to give battle to the Bearcats. Coach Lawrence has his men in shape to meet the invaders. Friday and Saturday nights will see two of the best games of the season here.

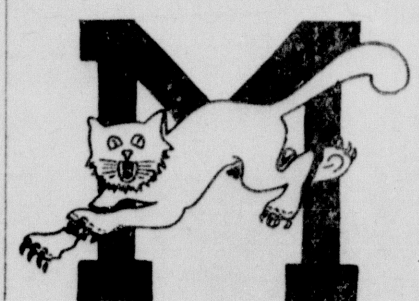

You had better come early if you want a seat. Or better yet get a season reserved seat at Kuchs Bros., for 75c. The single admission is 50c. John Bunn of K. U. will handle the referee's whistle. Don't forget the time:

pipe smokers:

Here's the life history of the world's best pipe tobacco

WE took the finest Burley that ever came out of old Kentucky. We aged it, then mellowed it by an old-time slow-but-sure secret process—the Well-man Method.

We cut it, not in fine, quick-burning chips, but in coarse, shaggy flakes that smoke as cool as a brisk sea breeze.

Then we packed it in sensible, comfortable foil (instead of costly tin) and called it Granger Rough Cut.

To half a million smokers it's "the finest pipe tobacco I ever laid a match to."
